SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a three week certificate program on Phases of Clinical Trials for 3rd & 4th B.Pharm and 3rd & 4th Pharm.D students by the resource person. Dr. L. Renuka . Developers of drugs, biologicals, and medical devices must ensure product safety, demonstrate medical benefit in people, and mass produce the product. Preclinical development starts before clinical trials and the main goals are to determine safety and effectiveness of the intervention. If preclinical studies show that the therapy is safe and effective, clinical trials are started. Clinical trial phases are steps in the research to determine if an intervention would be beneficial or de-trimentional to humans and include Phases 0, I, II, III, IV, and V clinical studies. Totally 64 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program the students able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. To understand the importance of clinical trials.
2. To assess safe & tolerated dose
3. To detect effects unrelated to the expected
4. To defect any predictable toxicity.
5. To see if pharmacokinetics differ much from animal to man.
6. Drug development phases

Program Outcomes:

1. Clinical trials is the main stay for bringing out new drugs to the market
2. Submission of New drug application (NDA) is the formal step asking FDA to consider a drug for marketing approval
3. To obtain preliminary pharmacokinetic data
4. sub acute toxicity study in one species by two routes of Administration
5. Periodic safety Update Reports
6. Clinical trials a nutshell Knowledge about pharmaceutical adjuvant of plant origin.

SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a Two week certificate program on Bioanalytical Validation for 4th B. Pharm and 4th Pharm. D students by the Resource person G.Divya. Bioanalytical method validation is essential to ensure the acceptability of assay performance and the reliability of analytical results. A bioanalytical method is defined as a set of procedures used for measuring analyte concentrations in biological samples Totally 65 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program the students able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. To develop and validate highly specific, reliable and cost effective chromatographic and spectroscopic methods for determination of drug in human plasma.
2. To allow the quantification of drugs and their metabolites in the biological matrices.
3. To Develop a bioanalytical method is to get a Suitable method which is more accurate and Precise for the analyte of interest under given Set of lab conditions by using resources available.

Program Outcomes:

1. Regulation of pharmaceutical development process is important to ensure that drug products are safe and effective
2. Ensure that drug compound handled and tested property
3. Knowledge about determination of drug quality by assay method
4. Need of bioanalytical method development and validation
5. Instrumentation for bioanalytical method

SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a Two week certificate program on Anatomy of endocrine system for 2nd & 3rd B. Pharm and 2nd Pharm. D students by the Resource person N. Rajeswari. The endocrine system is composed of glands and their chemical messengers called hormones. The endocrine system is instrumental in regulating growth and development, tissue function, metabolism, and reproductive processes. Hormones affect nearly every cell in the body by traveling through the bloodstream and binding to specialized receptors. This program reviews the structure and function of the major endocrine glands and the most important characterized hormones. Totally 64 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program the students able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. Understand the General Functions of the Endocrine System
2. Be able to define the terms endocrine and Hormone.
3. know the three basic chemical structures of Hormones.
4. Know the General mechanisms by which hormones alter cellular activity.
5. Know the effects of exercise on Hormone Secretion

Program Outcomes:

1. Knowledge of hormone functions to control and coordinate your body's metabolism.
2. Important glands in our body.
3. Regulation of hormone release.
4. Positive and negative feedbacks of endocrine hormones.
5. Maintenance of homeostasis during rest and exercise.
