OBJECTIVES

- 1) Titrations involving precipitation reactions can be used to determine the concentrations of an ion in solution.
- 2) To describe the difference between an endpoint and an equivalence point in an acid base titrations.
- 3) To identify the equivalence point in an acid base titration from the pH titration curve.
- 4) Illustrate titration of a weak acid with a strong base
5. Calculating the conc of unknown acid or base.

About Us

Sri Venkateswara College of pharmacy was established in 2004 by Vikas Educational Society, Etcherla, Srikakulam district. The objective of the college is to impart quality education to the students of rural areas. The college have the student community in their academic endeavour and extra-curricular activities. The Placement cell is active, opening the frontier of job opportunities. This college is committed to pursue excellence in all its disciplines and providing training to develop professional responsibility, Social sensitivity and cultural awareness. It also directs students through the path of truth and integrity. Our college is surrounded by the beauty of nature. The college offers . B.Pharmacy, M.Pharmacy, (Pharmaceutical Analysis & Quality Assurance, Pharmaceutical Technology, Pharmacology) and Doctor of Pharmacy courses.

Topics of Program

- Introduction of titrations
- Types of titrations
- Concept of acid-base titrations and titrations curves
- Demonstrate the basic laboratory techniques of titrations
- Calculations of molarity, normality, molality based on titrations.
- Determining the concentration of unknown substances from titration data.

SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a two week certificate program on Titrations for 1st B.Pharm and 1st Pharm. D students by the resource person Dr. K.E.V. Nagoji. Titrations involves a quantitative chemical analysis to determine the concentration of an identified analyte with which desired constituent reacts in a definite, known proportion. Totally 55 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program the students able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. How titrations involving precipitation reactions can be used to determine the concentrations of an ion in solution.
2. Describe the difference between an endpoint and an equivalence point in an acid base titrations.
3. Types of titrations
4. Concept of acid-base titrations and titrations curves
5. Demonstrate the basic laboratory techniques of titrations
6. Calculations of molarity, normality, molality based on titrations.
7. Determining the concentration of unknown substances from titration data.

Program Outcomes:

1. Identify acid-bases using the bronsted- lowry & Lewis concepts of acid & bases.
2. Knowledge about the use of acid-base theories to distinguish between strong and weak acid/base.
3. Understand the basic concepts of acid-base titrations and came to know the related calculations.

SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a Two-week certificate program on Volumetric analysis for 3rd B.Pharm and 3rd Pharm. D students by the Resource person G. Divya. An Volumetric solution is a reagent of known concentration that is added from a analyte until a reaction between the two liquids is judged to be complete. Totally 57 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program, the students were able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. Understand the methods that are used for the detection of the equivalent point
2. Know the requirements for a reaction to be applied in volumetric analysis
3. Calculate the volume of titrant at the equivalent Point?
4. Calculate the concentrations of all species participating in the titration reaction at any point during titrations.

Program Outcomes:

1. Identify appropriate apparatus used in volumetric analysis.
2. Knowledge on using correct titrimetric procedures when carrying out titrations.
3. Understand the terms like analyte, titrant, endpoint, turning point, blank and back titrations.
4. Significance of endpoint detection.
5. Solving volumetric problems from principles.

SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a Three week certificate program on Mat in Spectroscopy for 4th B.Pharm and 4th Pharm. D students by the Resource person K. Pavitra. Mats is to develop a NIST-based multi-spectrum fitting and analysis tool for spectroscopic data that allows the flexibility to test and adapt to experimental and data-driven needs. Totally 65 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program the students able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. Chemical and structural nature of materials as determined using microscopy, diffraction, spectroscopy, and calorimetry
2. Various surface analysis techniques and
3. Their applications in materials science
4. Connection between properties and appropriate characterization techniques in order to determine properties of materials

Program Outcomes:

1. Understand the use of specific characteristics techniques in different applications and disadvantages of the various types of techniques for specific materials analysis
2. Apply the principals of materials science and engineering to the selection of characterization techniques
3. Knowledge about the importance of MAT Analysis.
4. Understand the disadvantages of the various types of techniques for specific materials analysis
5. Analyse and interpret data available in the scientific literature

About College

Sri Venkateswara College of pharmacy was established in 2004 by Vikas Educational Society, Etcherla, Srikakulam district. The objective of the college is to impart quality education to the students of rural areas. The college have the student community in their academic endeavour and extra-curricular activities. The Placement cell is active, opening the frontier of job opportunities. This college is committed to pursue excellence in all its disciplines and providing training to develop professional responsibility, Social sensitivity and cultural awareness. It also directs students through the path of truth and integrity. Our college is surrounded by the beauty of nature. The college offers . B.Pharmacy, M.Pharmacy,(Pharmaceutical Analysis & Quality Assurance, Pharmaceutical Technology, Pharmacology) and Doctor of Pharmacy courses.

OBJECTIVES

- 1)Identify, define and explain the chemical equation
- 2)Differentiate between chemical and algebraic equations.
- 3)List various common indicators of a chemical reaction.
- 4)write equations describing chemical reactions
- 5) List Elements that exist as diatomic molecules in their free state

SV College of Pharmacy, Etcherla, organized a two week certificate program on Named Reactions for 2nd B.Pharm and 2nd Pharm.D students by the resource person M. Madhuri. Named Reactions are chemical reactions that are named after the people who discovered the reaction mechanisms. These reactions mechanisms are used for various applications such as converting alcohol into functional groups such as esters Mitsunobu reaction. Totally 60 students participated in this training program and after the completion of the program the students are able to understand the following objectives and learning outcomes.

Objectives:

1. Identify, define and explain the chemical equation
2. Differentiate between chemical and algebraic equations.
3. List various common indicators of a chemical reaction.
4. Write equations describing chemical reactions
5. List Elements that exist as diatomic molecules in their free state

Program Outcomes:

1. Knowledge about how the natural Reaction takes place
2. Know about the reagents involved in named reactions.
3. Understand the detailed description of the properties of a specific transformation of reactions.
4. Complete knowledge about important named reactions.
5. Knowledge about the exothermic and endothermic reactions
